TORREY REVIVAL WELL FINANCED AND SUCCESSFUL

Great Evangelist Received Eight Hundred Dollars For His Services.

Singers and Helpers Received $600.

ONLY SMALL BALANCE BACK

The Torrey revival held at the Auditorium rink last month was well financed as well as a decided success, according to reports from the Rev. M. E. Dodd, secretary of the Paducah Protestant Pastors' association.

While claims attached to the general expense account have not all been received, it is safe to say that the local churches took care of all expenses and will be able to meet every bill with the amount of receipts.

Approximately $2,100 were the total receipts of the meeting. $1,400 of which went to Dr. Torrey and his staff of workers. Dr. Torrey individually received $800 from the free-will offering, and $600 was paid his staff for the four weeks, including Dr. Jacoby, Messrs. McKean and Kinsey and Misses Parker and Anderson, out of the general expense fund.

The expenses attached to the meeting were exceptionally small, amounting to less than $1,300. Dr. Dodd said today that similar revivals held in other cities of about the same population of Paducah cost a general expense of between $3,000 and $5,000. He thinks the local churches were fortunate in going through on so small expense, which consisted of the rental of the rink, the hotel bills of Dr. Torrey and his staff, their railroad transportation to and from Paducah and other miscellaneous bills.

BLOODHOUNDS WILL BE BOUGHT BY THE CITY

The joint finance committee of the general council decided today to recommend the purchase of three bloodhounds from the Blue Grass kennels at Lexington on recommendation of Jailer Clark and Sergeant E. H. Cross. Three cost $325, of which $300 is for two trailers and $25 for a stud.

The Methodist Conference.

Two weeks from today and the Memphis conference of the Methodist church will convene in Paducah. Practically all of the arrangements have been completed. Last night the hospitality committee held a meeting and assigned the delegates to their homes while in the city. Arrangements have been made to care for nearly all of the delegates.

MUST TAKE NEW STAND.

Decision of Commerce Commission Has Lived Its Time.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—After winning the fight for lower freight rates by two years of constant effort, the western shippers are to be pushed back to the starting point through action taken by the railroads, and because the limit of the Interstate Commerce Commission control is about to expire. The commission law states that a decision of the commission shall last two years, and rates may then be scheduled for a change again. Two years ago, November 10, the commission made a decision favoring the shippers. The matter was then taken up by the railroads and last week the supreme court gave its decision also favoring the shippers. Now the railroads have led schedules with the commission, putting the rates at the old point, and the fight must be conducted again.

WANT CLOTHES.

With the advent of winter come the calls for charity work. The Philanthropic department of the Woman's club has requested the press to call on every one who has any old clothing of any character to spare to give it to them, as they are already overrun with plans for assistance from deserving patrons. So, go through your gullet or old clothes room and find what you have you can spare and notify any member of the club.

Spanish Revolutionary Plot Is Discovered Just Before Scheme Is Sprung—Many are Arrested

Alfonso's Government Denies Outbreak Reports—French
Cabinet Resigns—Crown
Prince Travels.

London, Nov. 2.—An official denial that there has been a revolution or any outbreak in Madrid, or any other part of Spain, was received here this afternoon. The denial, however, omits to make any reference to the discovery of widespread revolutionary plots.

Information, reaching here late this afternoon from Lisbon, indicates the Spanish government has discovered a revolutionary plot. It is reported that the plot was revealed just before it was sprung. Hundreds of arrests throughout the kingdom followed. According to the same report, the rumors of a revolt were caused by these arrests made simultaneously and with a show of force and disorder.

Crown Prince Will Travel.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm and the crown princess today went to Geneva, where they will embark on the yacht Prince Ludwig for Ceylon. The princess will return to Germany from Ceylon, while the prince will continue on a tour through the far east. In British India he will be a guest of the government.

French Cabinet Quits.

Paris, France, Nov. 2.—The entire French cabinet, headed by Premier Briand, today tendered its resignation to President Poincaré. It is believed the purpose of the resignation is to permit of the reorganization of a cabinet more in harmony with Briand, and that a new cabinet, with Briand at the head, will be sent to the house of delegates tomorrow.

Hurlbut, a New York lawyer, Florence Burns and her pal, Edward Brooks, were sentenced today to serve not less than seven years and six months in Sing Sing. ## Tag Day is Coming Before Thanksgiving

You are going to be tagged again. The Philanthropic department of the Woman's club, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to have a tag day some time this latter part of this month to raise funds for their charity work. The date has not been decided upon, but it will be just a few days before Thanksgiving. The last tag day was quite a success and the ladies hope to duplicate it this year.

AN EDITORIAL

Louisville, as regards her schools, is right where Paducah was two or three years ago, and a fight is being made this year for a school board that is free from small politics and made up of competent business men. While the Louisville papers are divided on the issues in the general election, all are advising the citizens to disregard politics in the selection of school trustees and to consider the men. This is remarkable, because the regular Democratic ticket is being opposed by a fusion ticket placed under the Republican device. Of course, the Herald and Post are supporting it; but the situation is illuminated by the fact that the Courier-Journal and the Times have joined the move.

Monday morning the Courier-Journal said:

"Political considerations should be dropped for the moment. The various candidates should be considered with regard to their standing, integrity and ability, as well as the motives that prompt their candidacy. It does not matter what political party a school commissioner is affiliated with provided he is capable and disinterested in the discharge of his duties."

That afternoon the TIMES said:

"In each issue until November 8 the Times will continue the full list of the men nominated by petition for a place on the school commission. It asks of every voter who is concerned in the welfare of the schools to study this list carefully, to free himself from political or religious prejudice and to be governed in his choice only by his own conscience and the duty he owes to the community."

Paducah has won her board, and excellent business men compose the majority of it, under the presidency of W. J. Hills. Samuel T. Hubbard and John R. Ferguson, both busy manufacturers, have consented to stand for re-election. It is difficult to induce men of their calibre to become sufficiently interested in public affairs to give up their time to it; but under the present regime there is no political by-play; the business men composing the board meet and transact the business of the schools in the interest of the schools, just as they transact their private business in the interest of their stockholders. In this way no time is wasted and no complications arise. They would not for a minute think of remaining on a board, which indulged in petty politics and took up their time in playing games of graft in school contracts.

AS LOUISVILLE'S INTEREST IS TO SELECT SUCH MEN FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD, PADUCAH'S INTEREST LIES IN KEEPING THEM IN OFFICE.

The success of the present board is recognized by all people acquainted with conditions. As from a source that could not be prejudiced in favor of a board, the majority of whose members were elected on the opposite ticket, we quote the News-Democrat's editorial of July 7, 1910:

"Congratulations are due the school board. Clear of a floating debt after having inherited a floating obligation of $10,000 two years ago, speaks well for all parties concerned in the SPLENDID MANAGEMENT OF SCHOOL CONDITIONS."

General and Traveling Freight Agents of Burlington Railroad Call on Paducah Shippers Today

Confer With Mayor Smith,
Supt. W. J. Hills, of N. C. &
St. L. and Secretary Fowler of Commercial Club.

Heads of the Burlington freight and traffic departments are in Paducah looking after the situation here and preparing to begin doing business out of Paducah. By the last of next week, they said, they expect to be transferring freight between Paducah and Brookport.

In the party are E. R. Puffer, general freight agent; H. W. Crawford, division freight agent; H. K. Mack, traveling freight agent, and A. C. Cooke, chief of the traffic department of the Burlington system. They were joined here this afternoon by J. P. Cummings, division superintendent of the Beardstown division, which includes the Hottel Southern.

This morning they met Mayor Smith and conferred with W. J. Hills, superintendent of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, and with Secretary Saunders Fowler, of the Commercial club, and visited many Paducah shippers. They said they are just here to meet the shippers and inspecting things at this end of the line. It is a new territory and they desire to get acquainted and get some of the business.

This afternoon they inspected the line and the new transfer boat. They will leave tomorrow, probably returning to Chicago over the new line from Metropolis to Herrin.

The important announcement was made by them that Mr. E. F. Burnham, local agent for the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, will also be local agent for the Burlington.

EXTRACT BULLET AS EVIDENCE IN M'MANUS MURDER

Police, Working on Clew, Exhume Body of Assassin's Victim.

Chief Singrey and Detective
Collins Return.

BELIEVED ON RIGHT TRACK

Chief of Police Singrey and Detective James Collins returned this afternoon from Murray, where they exhumed the body of Frank McManus who was shot down at his own door step several weeks ago, and extracted the bullet from his arm. This bullet will be used in substantiating a clew, which the police possess in the case.

While tangible evidence has been scarce, the police have slowly been building up a theory as facts developed and recently they obtained possession of the firearms of a man strongly suspected of committing the crime. This made the calibre of the bullet, which killed McManus, of importance, and the officers went to Murray and secured the ball.

The previous effort to shoot McManus in the Brewery stable and the shot fired at Patrolman Les Ogilvie strengthen the clew the police possess. Detective Moore and Collins have turned over to the police department what evidence has come into their possession.

Those companies, Nos. 2 and 4, and truck company, No. 4, answered the alarm.

four voices of superlative merit—voices so full of melody and so fresh and unstrained that one was glad whenever the singer came upon the stage. These four singers were Joseph Sheehan himself, Louis La Valle who, if one drops into comparisons, has a bass voice even richer than Sheehan's tenor, Miss Grace Nelson in the soprano role of the heroine, and Miss Elaine De Sellem, a contralto, in the gypsy role. The pearl of all the voices was Miss De Sellem's contralto. Its full rich throat notes were a delight. Here is the sort of voice which makes one think of his particular favorite of all songs, and say: 'I would like to hear her sing that.' And that is the highest praise one can offer a singer. Mr. Sheehan and Miss Nelson sang the wonderful song of farewell in the lower scene splendidly. The passion of parting rang in the music. The opera, as music lovers know, is full of wonderful music—of dashing, wailing music, and of the tender music of women. If one song more than any other which was sung Monday night will be kept in one's memory it will be the Slumber Song of the Gypsy Mother which Miss De Sellem sang in the last scene. Mr. Sheehan's company is large and it is well trained. The scenery was pleasing and the entire opera 'stood up'—it wasn't merely an excuse for a half dozen good soloists to perform.

"Les Romanesques" Makes Hit.
Owensboro adds its commendation to that of Evansville in regard to "Les Romanesques," which will be presented at The Kentucky Friday night. The inquirer of yesterday said:

"The small audience present at the Grand Monday evening was not very creditable to the taste of Owensboro theater goers, who should have been eager to avail themselves of the first opportunity to witness a play of Rostand's. 'Les Romanesques' was M. Rostand's first work for the stage, and is a delicate satire on excessive romanticism with Romeo and Juliet reversed, the parents pretending enmity in order to forward the marriage of the hero and heroine. Perginet and Sylvestre, two young people, live upon adjoining estates, separated by a high wall. They are full of a fine desire for color, beauty, romance and charm. They long for a wonderful life, and condemn the commonplace. Their fathers appreciate their dispositions and in order to accomplish their end effect to be bitter enemies. The lovers pretend to be Romeo and Juliet, and their parents humor them with a faked abduction in which Perginet plays the hero and rescuer. It is delightful while the young people think it genuine, but when they find out they have been tricked by their elders they are enraged and break off the engagement. Perginet goes forth to seek real adventure in the world. Sylvestre remains at home, longing still for romance. It is in this situation that Straforel, an old actor, effects her cure.

"Mr. Nicholson as Straforel, the former actor, and present promoter of abductions, was delightful in his conception of this whimsical character, his facial expression, sweeping gestures and attitude being a burlesque on the old school of romantic actors.

"The stage setting was effective and picturesque."

The Masonic theater, the Shubert playhouse in Louisville, and the leading theatrical institution of that city, has arranged to carry an advertisement in The Evening Sun every day. Paducah folk who visit Louisville frequently will thus be kept in touch with the attractions at that delightful theater. The 11th and 12th, the Joseph Sheehan Opera company in the attraction and "The Midnight Sons" comes the 16th to the 19th.

COUNTY ROADS IN BAD CONDITION

AND FISCAL COURT TAKES COGNIZANCE OF FACT.

More Money and Instructions Given Road Supervisor to Do Work.

MONTHLY MEETING IS ENDED.

Needed repairs by the county roads formed the chief topic of business before the members of the fiscal court yesterday afternoon at the close of the session. Some of the gravel roads are in bad condition and need repairs badly. Following the recommendations of the road committee, J. R. Thompson, road supervisor, was authorized to spend $2,500 repaving the gravel roads. This sum can be spared from the road fund it was ascertained after a careful examination.

The repairs will be made to all the gravel roads possible, and the work will begin immediately in order that the roads may be in the proper condition for the winter traffic. The road committee made its report yesterday afternoon. The members recommended that a new road be established from the Louisville road near Massac creek bridge running north with the church road about 300 yards in length on east side of the old road. The cost is estimated at $100.

Another recommendation was to gravel and construct a ditch for 300 yards on the High Point road in order that the road may be passable all the year. By repairing this section of the road traffic will be made easier. The cost will be about $100. The third recommendation was for the road supervisor to advertise for bids for the repaving of the Benton, Mayfield, Cairo and Hinkleyville roads. The report of the committee was received.

The magistrates accepted an invitation from James C. Utterback, county treasurer, to dine at the Palmer House as his guests at the December meeting of the court.

The advisability of establishing an orchard at the county almshouse will be investigated by the committee.

The office rent of County Attorney Sanders E. Cline was increased from $12.50 to $13.50 a month.

After the regular meeting the magistrates agreed heartily to the recommendation for a general inspection of the county roads and it is probable that the inspection will be made. The four magistrates residing in the city are ignorant of the need for new roads and for repairs, and vote entirely upon the recommendation of the road committee. The trip will be made over the county roads and the magistrates will be in a better attitude to make the apportionment next year for the roads, and the parts of the county most in need of improvements.

"Trouble" Had Trouble In Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 2.—Most dog people look for trouble, and the canine of the bull family which assaulted the favorite four-legged animal belonging to Joseph F. Sheehan, the noted tenor singer in grand opera found trouble sure enough yesterday when the dog of this city got all the argument he had anticipated out of the stranger dog.

"Trouble" is the name of the thoroughbred bull terrier which trotted up Main street yesterday morning admiring the sights of the city. Directly in front of the stranger dog belonging to the noted singer who appeared at the Majestic last night, walked Henry Beck, the temporary custodian of Mr. Sheehan's "Trouble." Nobody anticipated and trouble until there turned the corner of Fifth and Main streets a heavy English bull dog, the property of one Peter Dalley. The trouble arose not through the aggressiveness of Mr. Sheehan's dog for "Trouble" was not looking for trouble as previously intimated. "Trouble" was, in fact, gazing at the stream of people surging down the thoroughfare of the strange city. Dalley lurked behind him and he had no opportunity to guess what was about to happen. Besides "Trouble" is not the kind of a dog that his name implies.

Then occurred the battle. Doggie of this city, weighing several pounds more than the stranger dog, instead of offering the usual handicap, lunged into a half-Nelson strangle. Taken aback by this unlooked-for attack "Trouble" halted in his march down the streets of the strange city and braced himself for the best he could to controvert the advantage secured by the dog behind. Right here "Trouble" gave evidence that he can take care of himself under the most disadvantageous circumstances. Unable to free himself from the hold of the other dog on his shoulder, "Trouble" made use of the good muscles in his stocky back and lunged far enough around to meet the attack of the enemy. Then it was that dog met dog. The stranger dog buried as many teeth as he could into the prized ear of his antagonist. Neither was afraid, but both yelled. The stream of humanity stopped in its busy course. Helter skelter came the pebbles, spangles, collies, terriers, and even the yellow dog peared to the scene of the fray. This, however went unnoticed by the combatants. There looked like a battle to death.

Over a hundred people and dogs protected, but Mr. Henry Beck, temporary custodian of the stranger dog, decided that Mr. Joseph Sheehan would not entertain very graciously the idea of his dog being chewed to pieces. As Mr. Beck separated the wretches of the street, "Trouble" was gradually getting the best of the argument.

The ambulance was called and as the city dog snarled protestingly around the corner, followed by canine admirers who had taken sides with the city bully, the act was ended by "Trouble" being hoisted into the ambulance. An examination showed that "Trouble's" worst injuries were in the teeth-tear shoulder which was quickly bandaged by Dr. Mitchell.

"Trouble" had so recovered his equanimity at 8 o'clock that the opera troupe decided it would not be unwise to allow the stranger dog to take his usual place behind the scenes while the show went on at the Majestic last night.

The famous Hoosier tunnel will be electrified.

WILL BE PROTECTED BY THIS ORDINANCE.

Responsibility for Mistaking Age Will Rest Upon the Minors Then.

At the meeting of the joint ordinance committee of the general council last night the committee approved the ordinance ordered for the protection of saloonkeepers against suits growing out of the sale of intoxicating drinks to minors, who are furnished liquor upon false statements as to their age.

An ordinance was ordered, exempting the T. J. Stahl and the A. D. Dickerson tobacco companies from municipal taxation for a period of five years.

Action in bringing in a hack ordinance and also for the improvement of Fourteenth street from Monroe to Clay streets was deferred. The committee laid aside the ordinance, establishing the office of city inspector of weights and measures, owing to the appointment of Mann Clark by McCracken county to serve in this capacity. To the board of public works was referred the matter of constructing a concrete walk from the foot of Kentucky avenue to the ferry-boat landing.

Facts For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. John G. Malden, 2115 Second St., North Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

HEALTH REPORT

FOR MONTH COMPARES WELL WITH OTHER CITIES.

That Dr. Holland Sees Where Great Improvement May Yet Be Made in Conditions.

"There is something materially wrong in Paducah," says City Health Officer S. Z. Holland in his monthly report to the board of health relative to the death rate.

There were 39 deaths here in October, and although this number is not exceedingly high, Dr. Holland says after comparing reports from other cities, that the number can be reduced by proper sanitation. Dr. Holland, in his report, takes a fling at delinquent property owners in sewer district No. 1, who have failed to connect their premises. He says although many are poor and hardly able to make connections, they should first consider the health of the community.

The deaths and births last month were:

Deaths—White male, 18; white female, 11; colored male, 11; colored female, 4.

Births—White male, 10; white female, 8; colored male, 6; colored female, 3.

Dr. Holland said many sanitary improvements were demanded and it is his desire to see Paducah as spotless as possible by next spring when Dr. McCormick, of Bowling Green, Ky., secretary of the state board of health, will be here to instruct a class of health officers. Dr. McCormick has spoken here and is a sanitary expert.

MOTHER'S RIVAL

AND MOTHER WINS SUIT, COURT AWARDED HER $8,800.

Dr. Becker Got Divorce From Wife, While Step-daughter Divorced Her Husband.

Milwaukee, Nov. 2.—That Mrs. Johanna Huesselman is entitled to $8,800 damages from her daughter, the wife of Dr. Wilhelm Becker, was the verdict of the jury in the circuit court of Judge W. J. Turner today, in the $25,000 alienation of affections suit of the mother against the daughter.

Mrs. Huesselman and Dr. Becker were married in Chicago in 1900. She was then 41 years old. He was 31. She had two daughters, one of them was Mrs. Hattie Bott, 26 years old at that time. Mrs. Bott was then living in St. Paul. Her husband was Dr. Henry C. Bott. Sometime after the marriage of Mrs. Bott, she came to Milwaukee to visit at the home of her mother and her new step-father. The result was that on Sept. 29, 1905, Mrs. Becker and the doctor separated. She alleged that he compelled her to leave, threatening to shoot her. On Nov. 3, 1906, Mrs. Huesselman got a divorce from the doctor. Her former name was restored.

On Nov. 9, 1906, Mrs. Bott, the present Mrs. Becker, began suit for divorce from Dr. Bott. She got the divorce Nov. 24, 1907. Five days later, according to the testimony, Mrs. Bott and her step-father were married.

Mrs. Huesselman-Becker-Huesselman said among other things that it was in July, 1905, that her daughter, "wifely, maliciously and wickedly" gained the affections of Dr. Becker, and sought to entice him to desert his wife, Mrs. Huesselman.

Here comes Mrs. and Mrs. Asche back to London—together! There go Mr. and Mrs. Fred Terry—together. Mr. and Mrs. Kendal were always inseparable—and may they long remain so. You cannot persuade either Mr. or Mrs. Benson to leave the other out of the cast, and Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Hicks have each their best business assets in each other. Nothing proves so surely the stolid domesticity of our race as the fact that husband and wife can act or write together for years without quarreling.—London Chronicle.

Too Full for Utterance. A man who was too drunk to speak his name is the first "crying" prisoner who has been locked in the city jail this year. He was taken to the lock-up by Patrolman Elmus Carter and when placed in a cell he began uttering the other prisoners by "squalling."

TUBERCULOSIS CENSUS REPORT SHOWS ITS DEADLY CHARACTER

Washington, Nov. 2.—Figures tending to show the relation between occupation and tuberculosis of the lungs and apparently indicating that agricultural pursuits are more favorable to health in this respect than other employments, were made public today by the census bureau in the form of an outline of a bulletin No. 108 on mortality statistics for 1905. An interesting feature of the report is the showing that out of the total number of deaths from all causes among printers, lithographers and pressmen in the bureau's "area of death registration," which represents more than the United States, this form of tuberculosis causes, between the ages of 25 and 34, no less than 51.5 per cent.

The statement issued today says that "among the men in the agricultural pursuits at the age period of 25 to 34 years, those from tuberculosis of the lungs formed 26.2 per cent.; in the domestic and personal service class, 32.3 per cent; in the trade and transportation class 31.9 per cent; and in the manufacturing and mechanical pursuits 30.8 per cent."

The bulletin seems to indicate further with reference to nearly all of the specified, male occupations that this form of tuberculosis attacks the larger proportion of its victims before the age of 34; proportioned decrease. Of printers, lithographers and pressmen, for example, it is stated that while the figure is 51.5 per cent between 25 and 34, it is only 32.6 between 35 and 44; 22.3 between 45 and 54 and but 6.5 between 55 and 64.

"The only two exceptions to the rule mentioned," says the statement, "are among gardeners, florists and nurserymen as one class, and among miners and quarrymen, as the other."

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 20 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

One Twin More or Less.

When "Three Twins" was playing at the Herald Square Theater, New York, two years ago, there was a fire one night. About midnight the story came into a Philadelphia newspaper office. The dispatch said "Three Twins" had been burned out during the evening performance. A copy-reader wrote the headline: "THREE TWINS BURNED OUT AT

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE."

The managing editor, five minutes later, got the proof. It puzzled him, but only momentarily, for he "corrected" it to read:

"TWO TWINS BURNED OUT AT HERALD SQUARE THEATRE,"—which is how it was printed.—Everybody's Magazine.

If the Floor is Warm the Whole Room is Warm

The fire in the Wilson Heater is so perfectly under control that with very little attention to the dampers, your rooms can be kept in a constant, healthful temperature. The celebrated Down-Draft creates perfect combustion in the Heater so that the whole heater gives out heat instead of just the top portion, as is the case with other heaters. You know, of course, that hot air rises so that when the Wilson heats the floor as well as the upper air of the room the whole room remains at a steady even temperature.

WE ARE ADVERTISED BY OUR LOVING COMPETITORS.

In an effort to fasten on us some hideous offense—being an accomplice after the fact, we believe—and at the same time avoid a libel suit, the News-Democrat makes a ridiculous spectacle of itself this morning by declaring in one sentence that a news item in The Evening Sun yesterday about a warrant for a trivial offense, warned the murderer of Frank McManus out of the city; and in the next saying: "The News-Democrat does not accuse the young white man. It does not know or pretend to know whether the young white man is guilty."

It doesn't accuse him of murder; but it is sure The Sun is his accomplice.
The other day we read in the News-Democrat—which has, by the way, discovered several murderers of the Pool road victim in its day—that the murderer was in the city and shot at a policeman. This morning we learn that he has just returned to Paducah. There's a lot more rot in the editorial of the News-Democrat; but this much truth there is in it: everybody reads The Evening Sun. Unquestionably if anyone had wished to warn the murderer out of the city, he would have put it in The Sun. Everybody reads Sun Want Ads. We can't refrain from calling attention to this unexpected endorsement of the efficiency of The Evening Sun's columns as a means of reaching the reading public.

THE CASE OF MILUS STEWART.

We are not trying Milus Stewart for malicious cutting; he will be tried for that before a jury of his peers by the commonwealth's attorney and county attorney who presided over the grand jury, which indicted him.

We are trying Milus Stewart as a candidate for school trustee before the bar of public opinion. Every man, who offers himself as a candidate for public office must submit to having his private record exposed in so far as it may affect his fitness for the trust; and we are asking the voters of Paducah, whether they consider a man, whose wages are garnished for a just debt, and who is charged in an indictment with attacking his creditor with a knife or other sharp instrument, is a fit person to participate in the management of the schools, which they support with their money and to which they send their children for instruction.

Is a man, who does not manage his own private affairs well, a safe man to entrust with the taxpayers' money? Can you consistently point your children to a career, which will bring them credit and happiness, while elevating to a position of trust over those children, a man charged as Milus Stewart is in an indictment? These are serious questions.

We well understand the old political trick of appealing for votes to class prejudice, and we know Messrs. Long and Lightfoot are old-fashioned politicians. Every man on their ticket was carefully selected with reference to an appeal to certain classes of voters on account of religious or other affiliations. They think of herding voters like dumb, driven cattle. We have confidence in the Intelligence and manhood of the individual voter; an appeal to class prejudice is an insult to the voter to whom the appeal is made.

We do not particularly enjoy parading a man's personal affairs before the public; but we are having as much mercy on Milus Stewart as he had on himself. Evidently he does not take his civil suit and indictment much to heart; else he would have gone to the committee and said, "Gentlemen, I am under indictment for a crime. Until I clear my name I do not care to run for public office." Had he done that, nothing would have been said of his troubles during the campaign. Since he has chosen, he must submit to having his conduct investigated with reference to his fitness for a public trust.

Lulled into fancied security by the absence of hostile signs on the part of the police department, the young white man loafed about the city yesterday, frequenting old haunts in manner and mien indicating an idea that he had thrown the police completely off his trail. The plan was to arrest him after dark last night.—News-Democrat.

If that wasn't a lie; it would be a serious reflection on the intelligence of the Paducah police. Why not arrest him before night?

Get the Habit.

If the new milk ordinance is enforced through the winter it will be much easier to secure compliance with its provisions next summer, when the demand for its enforcement will be much more urgent. If the dairymen form the habit of complying with the regulations it will soon come easy to them.—Kentucky State Journal.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION.

Under the Kentucky statutes Tuesday after the first Monday in November is election day. The polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. The election this year is on the 8th day of November. The special registration days in cities are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the week preceding the election which this year will be October 31st, and November 1st and 2nd. Following is the law governing the special registration: "Any person entitled to register who was necessarily absent from the city of his residence during the days allowed for registration here or who was ill during said time, or who was unable to attend the place of registration on account of sickness of some named member of his family, may by attending the county clerk's office and making affidavit of the fact have his name placed on the registration book."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Sun:

And now, behold, Diogenes rushes into the breach and, buckling on his tinsel armor, like the brave little man he evidently is not, shunts his eyes and pulls the trigger and fires his little blunderbuss from the secure ambush of a disguised name. Was it a too intimate association with quinine or poker that led Diogenes to conclude that his article would probably have more weight in the community in which he lives if signed by a name other than his own? Let me commend his friend's wisdom in the use he made of the doctor's prescription. If his only alternative was to take them or play poker with them, I think he was justified in the use he made of the quinine tablets. But what will become of the doctor's prescriptions when all the people get as wise as his friend and Christian Science and the constables break up all the poker games? I doubt if there ever was a subject that offered more provoking opportunity to its would-be critics to make public exhibitions of their ignorance, or an opportunity of which they have more unfeeling and with such unparalleled success availed themselves than Christian Science.

Now I am quite as well aware, I imagine, as Diogenes could possibly be, of the different use sometimes made of the two words conception and perception, especially by modern psychologists and philosophers of a minor grade who seem to find congenial pastime in mouse-tracking between these words, but I used the word conception advisedly and in the same sense in which it is understood and used by the most distinguished scientists and philosophers of the past two centuries. Both conception and perception are given us by mind, and we can have no consciousness of an object or of its presence except as it is given us by mind. All that can now be reasonably contended by the materialists is that there may be material or nervous processes leading to a mental result which is called perception, but the percept or perception is in itself wholly mental and contains no material element of any kind. The objects given us by perception are mental objects, concepts or phenomena—a of the human mind, as I have said, and can not possibly be anything else. All the objects, therefore, which we see around us and which seem to be material objects existing in space independent of mind and to constitute the objects of a material universe, are merely the phenomena or concepts of the human mind. Mind can not be conscious of anything but its own concepts or states. We may contend if we choose that there are material objects out in space which correspond to these mental pictures or objects given us in perception, just as we may contend that the moon is made of green cheese. This is a free country and nobody could put us in jail for it. But is it either prudent or profitable to disregard the conclusions of our profoundest thinkers in all ages who have devoted their lives to the study of these very problems? Back of the issues raised by Diogenes are some of the profoundest questions that have engaged the attention of scholarly men in all ages, questions apparently little dreamed of in the philosophy of Diogenes. I possibly could not hope to make my meaning any clearer or more instructive to the readers of The Sun than by quoting at some length from "A Crumb for the Modern Symposium," by the late Prof. John Fiske, of Yale, which appears in the volume of his works entitled "Darwinism and Other Essays," viz:

"Materialism of this sort has plenty of defenders, no doubt, but not among those who are skilled in philosophy. The untrained thinker, who believes that the group of phenomena constituting the table on which he is writing has an objective existence independent of consciousness, will probably find no difficulty in accepting this sort of materialism. If he is devoted to the study of nervous physiology, he will be very likely to adopt some such crude notion, and to proclaim it as zealously as if it were a very important truth, calculated to promote, to many ways, the welfare of mankind. The reliance of such a writer is very likely to be sound and valuable, and what he tells us about wormars-poisson and frog's legs, and acute mania, will probably be worthy of serious attention. But with his philosophy it is quite otherwise. When he has proceeded as far in subjective analysis as he has in the study of nerves our materialists will find that it was demonstrated, a century ago, that the group of phenomena constituting the table has no real existence whatever in a philosophic sense. For by "reality" in philosophy is meant "persistence irrespective of particular conditions," and the group of phenomena constituting a table persists only in so far as it is held together in conglomeration. Take away the conglomeration, and the color, form, position, and hardness of the table—all the attributes, in short, that characterize it as matter—at once disappear. That something remains we may grant, but this something is unknown and unknowable; it is certainly not the group of phenomena constituting the table. Apart from consciousness there are no such things as color, form, position, or hardness, and there is no such thing as matter. This great truth, established by Berkeley, is the very foundation of modern scientific philosophy; and, though it has been misapprehended by many, no one has ever refuted it, and it is not likely that any one ever will.

Hence, on the whole, materialism does not represent anything of primary importance in modern philosophy; it represents rather the crude speculation of that large and increasing number of people who have acquired some knowledge of the truths of physical science, without possessing sufficient subtlety to apprehend their metaphysical bearings. The foregoing quotation from Prof. Fiske is a very correct representation of the teaching of Christian Science on the subject of the "real" and the "unreal"; and, in his statements, Prof. Fiske is in substantial, perhaps exact, accord with Herbert Spencer, Mr. Huxley and others of their mental calibre.

BAPTISTS

WILL INVITE GENERAL ASSOCIATION HERE.

Revival Well Attended By Attentive Audience—Subjects of Their Sermons.

An important business session of the congregation of the First Baptist church will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at which time an invitation will be extended the General Baptist association to hold its annual meeting in Paducah in 1911. The association meets next week at Cincinnati, and at the meeting the invitation will be sent by the local church. Several other important business matters will come up for discussion tonight.

A splendid meeting was held at the First Christian church last night when the Rev. J. J. Castleberry, of Mayfield, preached on the subject of "Hopes in Christ." His text was II Corinthians, 8-9. After the sermon three additions responded to the call, one by confession and two by statement. Mrs. H. C. Overby sang very sweetly.

The music is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Hurre and special music will be featured at each service. Tonight the Rev. Mr. Castleberry will preach on the subject of "The Only Thing That Will Keep a Man Out of Heaven."

Prior to the meeting which begins at 7:30 o'clock, the teachers of the Sunday school will meet with Superintendent Ernest Bell, at which time a subscription of $100 will be taken toward reducing the church debt.

Tenth Street Church.

"Into Christ" will be the subject of the Rev. G. D. Wyatt's sermon this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Tenth Street Christian church. A large congregation was present last night.

The meeting at Tenth Street Christian church last night was well attended, a fine audience being present. Mr. Wyatt preached an interesting sermon, as evidenced by marked attention from all present, and favorable comment at the close. The music, both instrumental and vocal, was good. Mr. Hamberg led the audience joining heartily. Miss Ina Barnell presided at the organ. Services each evening this week at 7:30. All members of the church urged to attend, friends cordially invited to join in the song service and hear Mr. Wyatt's strong and impressive sermons.

HOME WILL HAVE SPECIAL TEACHERSCHOOL BOARD DECIDES TO ELECT ONE.

Superintendent Calls Attention to Money Wasted by Irregular Pupils.

ADDS FOURTH TO EXPENSES

A first class school teacher will be appointed by the city school board for the Home of the Friendless. There are 35 children in the Home of school age; if they attend
the public school an extra teacher
would be required, and as the city school census on which its apportionment for the state is based includes these children, the board thought to employ the teacher. The Home will furnish the school room, light and heat, and the board will pay only the salary of the teacher for nine months. The work will begin December 1. This was decided at the meeting last night.

The heating plant at the Franklin building was accepted.

Superintendent's Report.

Superintendent Carnegie made the following report:

"The schools were in session in October 19 days.
Pupils Sept. 30 ..... 3003
New pupils enrolled ..... 100
Pupils re-entered ..... 84
Total enrollment ..... 3221
Pupils October 28 ..... 2988
Average daily attendance ..... 2753
Average daily absence ..... 254
Average daily belonging ..... 3007
Cases of tardiness ..... 388
Corporal punishment ..... 11
Cases truancy ..... 9
"The schools were closed on Wednesday, October 12, Columbus Day.
The attendance has been good during the month; showing an increase over the corresponding month of last year of 93 pupils.

"The health of both teachers and pupils has been very good, not a single day having been lost by a teacher on account of personal illnesses.

"We are making a vigorous and systematic attempt to keep track of every child who is out of school for any reason. I have introduced a new scheme of transferring pupils,
who move from one part of the city to another, in the hope that such children may be kept in school. In former years many children moved from one part of the city to another and we lost track of them and they remained out of school. By our new plan we hope to prevent loss in this way.

Loss by Irregularities.
"There is a great loss in all schools due in a large measure to the indifference of parents.

"In our schools last year we enrolled 3,652 children. When schools closed on June 10, 1910, there were on our rolls 2,621 pupils, showing a loss during the year of 1,031 pupils.
"This loss was caused by quitting
to go to work; sickness in family;
personal illness; moving from the city; failure to do the school work, and indifference of parents, the largest loss coming from the last cause. Most of these 1,030 pupils have again entered school this fall, or will do so during the year, but because of being in school only a few weeks or months last year they have failed to do satisfactory work,
and have to be placed in the same class.

"Over Age" Work.
In our first and second grades we are giving special time to "over age" pupils; that is, pupils who are more than 9 years of age.

"From 3:15 to 3:45 in the afternoon the regular pupils in these two grades are dismissed, and these older pupils are given special attention. It increases the work of the teachers of these two grades, but they are doing this extra work cheerfully, because they see the needs of these children and wish to do all they can to get them into grades with children more nearly their own age.

"The general public little knows the problems we have to meet in doing school work, and they do not appreciate the self-sacrifice that most of our teachers are making to advance the interest of children whose parents seem to have little care how they get on in school.

"In our own school our per cent of enrollment and attendance is much above the average for the state, and compares very favorably with other cities of our class in this and other states.

The Cost Of.
Almost every city in the country
is taking up the question of irregular attendance in an attempt to find a solution. When one-fourth of the pupils in the schools repeat the work of the year it simply means a money loss to the tax payers of one-fourth the school tax in supporting schools to pay for the education of children who, but for the indifference of parents, should finish the school course in fewer years.

"If parents could be made to see that their indifference causes loss to the city in supporting the schools, and the tax payers could be made to realize that there is practically a loss of 25 per cent of school revenue, because indifferent parents

ONE BIG FOOL

But He Doesn't Live in Paducah Nor
Read the Sun.

A man in Connecticut gave a doctor, a specialist in catarrh, $50 to cure him of this common yet most obnoxious disease.

The specialist gave him a bottle of medicines and told him to use it.
The fool took the medicine home,
took one dose, put it on a shelf and made no further effort to follow instructions.

Three months later with the medicine still on the shelf he told a friend that the specialist was a fake;
that he had paid him $50 and still had catarrh.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-ome) won't cure catarrh if you don't breathe it; it will if you breathe it regularly.

Furthermore, you won't need to give a catarrh specialist $50 to cure
you of catarrh, for the specialist is yet to be born who can write a better prescription than HYOMEI.

W. J. Gilbert and druggists everywhere guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh or money back. A complete outfit which consists of a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs only $1.00. Separate bottles of HYOMEI if afterwards needed cost but 50 cents.

make teachers do work over and over that could be done at once if children could be kept in school regularly, we should have a much more economical and efficient school system.

"But I want to say emphatically that our own teachers are trying as hard as they can to keep pupils in school; the pressure must come from the other end of the line. The parents must send children to school
and they must keep them in school;
that is their duty and they can not shirk it."

HARAHAN CALLED

ACTION OF DEFENSE PROVES
SURPRISE TO STATE.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—J. T. Harahan, president of the Illinois Central railroad; W. L. Park, vice-president, and John G. Brennan, a special counsel, were called into the municipal court as witnesses in the car repair fraud hearing before Judge Bruggemeyer. The summoning of the officials by the defense caused surprise,
as it had been reported that the defendants' attorney would reserve their right of the case until the matter reached the criminal court. Mr.
Harahan, Mr. Park and Mr. Brennan, however, were not placed on the witness stand, and gave no testimony.
Attorney Frank Reid, of counsel for the defendants, Frank R. Harriman, John M. Taylor and Charles L.
Ewing, had just offered a motion to dismiss the conspiracy charge against his clients when President Harahan was called to court. Mr. Reid's motion to dismiss was met by a counter motion by the state asking that the defendants be held to the criminal court.

"But we have testimony in rebuttal to introduce," said Mr. Reid.
"Then call your witnesses," ordered Judge Bruggemeyer.

Harahan in Court.
"I'll call Mr. Harahan," said Mr.
Reid.

Within a few minutes Mr. Harahan, Mr. Park and Mr. Brennan had been called by telephone. They arrived in court shortly after. Then Attorney Reid said he had arguments on the question of dismissal to present which might take several days. The court then excused President Harahan and the others until a day later in the week.

In beginning his arguments, Attorney Reid declared that the three defendants should be dismissed on the following grounds:

"That no evidence had been introduced to show that any of them had knowledge of the alleged frauds;
that, although many bills had been introduced alleged to contain false items, no testimony of actual fraud
had been introduced; that no agreement such as is necessary in a conspiracy had been shown, and that no criminal conspiracy had been developed."

SIGNS ALONG BROADWAY

Much business was transacted last night by the board of public works,
which was in session from 7 o'clock
until 9:30 o'clock, the longest session of the board in many months.
Business was heaped up for the members, and several lively discussions made the meeting of more than usual interest.

All the small signs that are not illuminated and not safe must be taken down. Until a few months ago only illuminated signs were permitted to be placed across the sidewalks, but owing to misunderstanding of the law several large wooden signs have been erected. Orders were issued that only illuminated signs can be erected under the direction of Fire Chief James Wood, and all sign owners must file a drawing of their signs, and secure a written permit from the board. Some of the signs are too low. The ordinance prescribes that no sign may be erected lower than nine feet above the sidewalk. The crusade will begin a few days, and the sign owners must conform to the law.

The Dry Docks.

A lively discussion was brought up
over the request of the Ayer-Lord Tie company for permission to establish its new docks at the foot of Jefferson street. Finally the request of the company was deferred until the next meeting. Previously it being more satisfactory to the city as well as the renter, who by reason of his lease was enabled to keep all boats
from landing against the docks.

The tie company desires to have its docks at the space vacated. At present the Kentucky Sand & Gravel company occupies part of the space, and in order to make room for the docks it will be necessary for the sand company to move south about 100 feet. This the sand company is willing to do, but this will place the sand company partly on the improved wharf and it will be obligated to pay a wharfage of $1 a foot. The right of the city to permit the tie company to use the valuable space without remuneration was a lively question, and it was left open after a warm debate.

Too Many Poles.

The large number of poles on North Twelfth street is a nuisance.
The board has sought by to reduce the number by an agreement between the managers of the public service corporations to use poles jointly. The question was referred

The Good Housekeeper

Will See That There Are No Rats
or Cockroaches in Her Home.

Nothing is more discouraging to the careful housekeeper than to have rats, cockroaches or other vermin in her home, especially when she has visitors.

Any annoyance of this kind is entirely needless if she will get a box of Stearns' Electric Paste
and Roach Paste, which will drive rats and mice out of the house to die and rid the home of the cockroaches in a single night.

Stearns' Electric Paste is sold by druggists or sent express prepaid on receipt of price, 2 oz.
box $1.00, 16 oz. box $1.00.

meet the managers and settle the matter in the best way possible.

Other Business.

A Chicago oil concern desired to sell the city a grade of oil for oiling
the streets. The company says that 58 cents worth of oil will cover 100 square yards. Further information will be secured in preparation for the oiling to be done next spring.

The Paducah Milling company was granted permission to dump refuse dirt in the ravine at the foot of Clark and Second streets.

Contractor G. W. Katterjohn was given an extension of time to complete the improvements in Me-chanicsburg. On account of the cold weather the work can not be completed as soon as expected.

A. Franke, sewer inspector, was instructed to repair the fountain at Tenth street and Broadway. The fountain was damaged by a careless teamster.

The Illinois Central railroad was instructed to repair the streets between its tracks on First street between Kentucky avenue and Jefferson street.

Present at the meeting last night
were: President Richard Reid; Secretary Louis Kolb and Mr. E. J. Lusk.

should always be used where several people sit, because it does not strain the eyes of those sitting far from it.

The Rayo Lamp is constructed to give the maximum diffused white light. Every detail that increases its light-giving value
has been included.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp. You may pay $5, $10 or even $20 for other lamps and get a more expensive container—but you cannot get a better light than the Rayo gives.
This season's Rayo has a new and strength-keeps the shade on firm and true. Easy to keep

THE ARMY NEEDS
20 AEROPLANES

GENERAL ALLEN, SIGNAL OFFICER, DEPLORES CONDITIONS

Nation Is Unprepared; Stands Chance of Being Caught Unaware—Aerial Equipment.

NOW IS WHOLLY INADEQUATE.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Twenty aeroplanes at least are needed for the United States government service, says General James Allen, signal officer, in his annual report, made public last night.

Allen deprecates the fact that although the United States was the first nation to officially recognize the aeroplane for military purposes, the government has not kept pace with the world in its development.

"Summed up, the aero equipment of the United States army consists of one small practice dirigible balloon, one Wright aeroplane and three small captive balloons," says the general.

Allen combats the oft-repeated assertion that the United States, owing to its isolated position, is not likely to become involved in war, and that therefore the most economical proceedings should be taken in preparation for war, thus shifting the expense of experiment and development to other nations.

"It must be remembered that in 1897," he says, "no one believed this country had any prospect of a war yet within a year we were actually involved in a war with Spain without any adequate military preparation, which resulted in great confusion, expense and unnecessary loss of life. Furthermore, experienced military airmen cannot be created after the war is declared, and the demands on this new service undoubtedly will require much training, judgment and courage, more than in any other branch of the military service."

Secretary Charles Robertson, of the Paducah and Illinois Ferry company, will leave Friday for a business trip to Jacksonville, Fla.

The ferryboat Robertson is handling a large amount of corn from Illinois and as well enjoying a heavy passenger business.

A needed improvement on the levee is a sidewalk leading to the ferry landing. It is estimated that 75,000 people went up and down the levee during the months of August and September, and walking was difficult on the cobblestones and mud. The walk will lead from Water street to the ferry landing on the south side of Kentucky avenue. Facilities for walking to and from the wharf-boat are fairly good, as the government gauge serves as a sidewalk. The J. T. Heeder has been chartered by the Paducah and Cairo Packet company and will enter the Cairo trade tomorrow leaving at 8 a. m. There was no packet in the trade today as the Fowler has been withdrawn owing to low water. She will resume her trip as soon as there is more water.

"Glove-Fitting" Corsets

The name "Glove-Fitting" was given to these corsets when the first ones were made more than three generations ago.

How long would the garments have maintained their popularity if they had failed to personify the name? Would the sale of a few hundreds during the first year back in the fifties have grown to several millions of today, except by virtue of sterling worth in the goods?
